Ex-Judge William Farrell, Well-Known Republican of Paoli.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. PAOLI, Ind., Nov. 10.-Ex-Judge William Farrell, one of the ablest lawyers in the State, died here Saturday afternoon of heart disease. William Farrell was born in New Albany, Ind., on Feb. 10, 1841. He received his early education in the public schools of that city. In 1861 he enlisted in Company B, Thirtyeighth Indiana Volunteer Infantry. He was discharged for physical disability in February, 1862, and in July of that year he became a clerk in the subsistence department of Hancock's corps, Army of the Potomac, a position he held until the close of the war. He began the study of law at New Albany with Judge J. S. Davis. He was graduated n 1868 from the law department of the Michigan State University and located at Paoli, where he had since resided. In the spring of 1890 he was appointed judge of the Circuit Court by Governor Hovey to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge T. L. Collins. Mr. Farrell was the extensive law libraries to be found in Indiana. His library contains many works of great value. He was an active Republican and a member of the I. O. O. F. He left a widow and seven children.

Died in the Carriage.

DE PAUW PLAYS WABASH.

Looks for a Good Game and Will Put in a Good Team.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. GREENCASTLE, Ind., Nov. 10 .- De Pauw looks at the game with Wabash Monday afternoon as the decisive game of the season, carrying with it the championship of the State among the second-grade teams, with a possibility, however, of changing the result in the game at Crawfordsville next week. The canceling of the game with Earlham, even if it did cause a little soreness in some quarters, will have the effect of permitting the Methodists to go into the contest with a sound eleven, whereas some of the best might have been laid out in the game which was scheduled for yesterday had it been played. Captain Gregory has been kept in his room all week by his physician on account of an injury which he received in the Vincennes game a week ago. He went from the field in bad ; condition at that time, but has been getting better steadily. He had recovered from an attack of typhoid fever just be-fore entering school this fall and has not

There are thirty-nine Protestant churches in which regular services are held and eight missions. The cards of Catholics, returned by the enumerators, were turned over to the priests of the several Catholic churches.

Richmond's Industrial Growth.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. RICHMOND, Ind., Nov. 10 .- Three distinct evidences of prosperity are just now to be seen here. One is the enlargement of the Arlington Hotel by the addition of a fourth story and complete renovation into a modern hostelry. The second is the construction of a large addition to the Robinson thresher works. The company is putting up a two-story brick building, 104x128 feet, to be used as an erecting room. Later on there will be put up a new office building. The third is the extensive improvements at the Wayne agricultural works, that will cost $25,000.
